Home Insurance that Protects the Seen and the Unseen

With Service Line Coverage from Erie Insurance, if your underground service lines get damaged, you won't be stuck footing the bill for repairs.*

The coverage is for damage to sewer, natural gas and propane pipes, and lines like electrical wiring, cable and internet.

Add Some Extra Peace of Mind to Your ErieSecure Home® Policy

Why pay for service plans offered by the utility companies when you can add coverage for them to your homeowners policy?

*All service line failures caused by the same event are considered one failure. Blockage or low pressure with no physical damage to the service line is not covered. Lines from a home to a septic tank are covered, but lines from a septic tank to a leach field are not covered.

See individual policies for specific coverage details. Coverage is subject to terms, conditions, limits and exclusions. Talk to an ERIE agent for state-specific policy information and refer to our disclaimer for additional information.
